Heidi Latsky Dance

Sunday, June 21-Tuesday, June 23 at 8:00pm
Reynolds Industries Theater

Heidi Latsky, former dancer with Bill T. Jones/Arnie Zane Dance Company and known for using conventional and unexpected performers, presents Triptych. Triptych consists of the works Solo Countersolo (2013), Somewhere (2013), and Soliloquy (2015), a dance created especially for film. Solo Countersolo features Heidi as the counterpoint to the ensemble, weaving through a landscape of vigorously moving bodies to a score by British composer Chris Brierley. Somewhere, with original music by Ximena Borges, is a series of intimate movement portraits that highlight the luminous appeal of a diverse unconventional cast. The third part of Triptych is Soliloquy a film that poetically interweaves ten movement portraits that embrace difference and the inherent isolation of being human with fierceness and frankness.

Here and Now: NC DancesThursday, June 25 at 7:00pm and 9:00pm*Reynolds Industries Theater

ADF and the NC Dance Festival (NCDF) are delighted to co-present four dance works by North Carolina choreographers. Selected by nationally recognized choreographers Carl Flink, Beth Gill, and Rosie Herrera, the works of the four chosen artists celebrate dance being created here and now, at home in North Carolina.

Anna Barker will present excerpts from it's not me it's you (2014), an evening-length duet made up of a series of dance-theater vignettes exploring the idiosyncrasies of relationships. Dedicated to [] because of [] (and vice versa) (2007) by Shaleigh Comerford is a complex dance theater work that explores the deeply personal and cultural landscape of gender and violence. Kristen Jeppsen Groves' [ME] thod (2011) defines the complicated relationships of policy players and highlights the power dynamics involved in policy language, history, and current challenges within policy. The duet ...dann von Deiner Hand from Karola Luttringhaus' larger work Inertia – Remembering the Holocaust (2008) is about love and its defense in the face of social and political oppression.

Soledad Barrio and Noche FlamencaFriday, June 26 at 8:00pm and Saturday, June 27 at 7:00pm*Durham Performing Arts Center

Acclaimed by critics for its exceptionally emotional performances, Noche Flamenca is one of the most authentic flamenco companies performing today, and Soledad Barrio is its star. Soledad Barrio and Noche Flamenca bring Antigona (2014), an evening-length flamenco interpretation of the text and themes in Sophocles' tragedy, Antigone. The themes in the work include catharsis, issues of dictatorship, repression, loss, the strength of family, and female empowerment. Combining live music, song, and dance, the work promises to be both gripping and intensely moving.

FESTIVAL EXTRASA Body in FukushimaFree and open to the public!

In 2014, dancer/choreographer Eiko Otake and historian/photographer William Johnston followed abandoned train tracks to desolate stations and eerily vacant towns and fields in Fukushima Prefecture, Japan. After the earthquake and tsunami on March 11, 2011, the radiation released from the damaged Fukushima Daiichi Nuclear Plant required the immediate evacuation of all inhabitants from a large area. Although some parts are now open for short daytime visits, most former residents are still refugees from their homes and businesses, and the central zone around the nuclear plant will remain uninhabitable for decades or longer. During their time in Fukushima in January and July 2014, Johnston photographed Eiko, amid this deserted landscape, as she danced her grief, anger, and remorse. A Body in Fukushima is a project of witness, remembrance, and empathy. The photographs will be exhibited at:
